TO: Executive Officer, DD/P

FROM: Director of Training

SUBJECT: Responsibilities of Director of Training and DD/P for Covert Training.

1. Inasmuch as the Director of Training is not responsible for overseas training, and has not yet been called upon to exercise staff supervision for overseas training, I suggest that in the last sentence of paragraph 1 there be added "When requested", before the word "Exercises".

2. I concur in paragraph 1 and 2 with the addition of the above.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Mr. McConnell
Colonel Baird
Mr. Wisner
General Wyman

When I established the Office of the Director of Training, it was my intention that he should plan, direct, and supervise the basic training for operational personnel of the Agency. Accordingly, the function of the Assistant Directors in charge of SO and PC operations would be to establish minimum specifications for the basic training of their personnel, to observe, correct, suggest to, and assist Colonel Baird in carrying out this service for the Agency at large. Thus, as my representative for training, Colonel Baird would proceed to produce basically trained personnel for Agency operations in accordance with the specifications furnished him by the Assistant Directors concerned. I do not want this basic training compartmented, and I see no difficulty in handling it under centralized direction.

/s/ WALTER B. SMITH
Director

Hon. John McCloy

I am trying to build up a corps of well-qualified men here who are interested in making a career with the CIA. To effect this I recently established a Training Office which functions - much as I dislike the term - as a sort of Career Management Office.
